St. Joseph's to Host Free Ovarian Cancer Survivors Course

On Saturday, March 21 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., the Gynecological Cancer Foundation in partnership with the Comprehensive Cancer Center at St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center will host a free ovarian cancer survivors course.

Leading experts in ovarian cancer will cover topics such as genetics, clinical trials and future treatments, management of recurrent ovarian cancer, and survivorship. There will also be a panel discussion and question and answer session.

The course will take place in the hospital's Goldman Auditorium, located on the northwest corner of Thomas Road and Third Avenue. Lunch will be provided. To register, visit www.thegcf.org.
